

Course Name:	Communication Studies 2221 – Interpersonal Communication, section 21
CRN	90548
Description	This is a blended course. This means most of your learning will be done via your textbook, computer, and a connection to the online course shell. However, you are required to come to the CNM Main Campus a total of THREE times throughout the semester in order to meet your classmates and demonstrate interpersonal skills. The required dates (and times) are listed below. Before registering, please check these exact times and dates on your own calendar and be sure you are available to attend!! You must stay for the entire class period. There are no make-up opportunities! And, you can NOT pass this class without attending all three sessions.
Prerequisites	English 1101 -- Failure to meet a prerequisite may result in students being dropped from the class at any time during the term.
Start and End Dates:	May 18 – August 6th, 2009
Instructor Name	Heidi Murphy, PhD
Phone	224-3678, Voicemail Box #0919
Email	hmurphy@cnm.edu
Required Face-to-Face Meeting:	Orientation: Week 2: Wednesday, May 27th, 6-8 pm, Main Campus Skill Demonstrations I and II: Week 9: Wednesday, July 15th, 6-8:30 pm, Main Campus Skill Demonstrations III and IV: Week 11: Wednesday, July 29th, 6-8:30 pm, Main Campus Be sure you do not have a scheduling conflict!
Required Texts:	Adler, R. B. & Proctor II, R. F. (2007). Looking Out/Looking In (12th ed.). Belmont, CA: Wadsworth/Thomson Learning, Inc. ISBN-10: 049509580X ISBN-13: 9780495095804 You can buy used or new from the CNM bookstore, your favorite source, or online from publisher at www.ichapters.com You should probably also have high-speed access to the Internet or you will find yourself getting frustrated!

Course Name:	Communication Studies 2221 – Interpersonal Communication, section 21
Additional requirements for this course:	You must do the following or you will be dropped from the class at any time during the semester: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ attend all three skill demonstration sessions ➤ keep in contact with the instructor by completing assignments, taking quizzes, and replying to discussion postings as scheduled and explained in the syllabus ➤ contact the instructor and complete the assigned orientation tasks by midnight on Wednesday of the second week of classes
Online Information and time commitment:	Distance Learning students must be self-motivated to achieve their goals on time. I can't stress this enough! Take the student readiness quiz at: http://oregonone.org/DEquiz.htm to be sure of your abilities to succeed as a distance learning student. Many students think distance learning courses are easier and then find out that the opposite is true. You will probably need to spend as much or more time doing your reading, testing and assignments as you would spend driving to and from campus and sitting in class (average: 4-6 hours a week in summer). I recommend scheduling work-time into your week (like you would do with a class) and making sure that you stick to the schedule. It's easy to get behind and almost impossible to catch up. You will be turning in something fairly substantial and/or taking a quiz every single week (see Course Syllabus To-Do List).
Additional Instructions for after enrolling for this course:	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Make sure you have a Blackboard Learning System account at elearning.cnm.edu. 2. Self-register for this course. PLEASE NOTE YOU WILL NOT BE ALLOWED TO ADD THE COURSE to your MY COURSES LIST UNTIL 8 a.m. ON MAY 18th! YOU MUST ALSO BE REGISTERED FOR THIS SECTION THROUGH THE CNM REGISTRATION SYSTEM. Add Comm 2221, sec 21, Heidi Murphy, from the View Course List link on the login page. From your My Courses page, click on this course and read the instructions under "Let's Get Started/Orientation" on the homepage.